Re: Rodis Paparodis, MD

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter is to advise that Rodis Paparodis, MD completed one (1) full calendar year of fellowship training (between July 1, 2010 and June 30, 2011) in the Advanced Endocrinology and Women's Health Fellowship Program of the Division of Endocrinology, Metabolism and Molecular Medicine, of which Andrea Dunaif is the Program Director.

Dr. Paparodis completed all of the training requirements and was in good standing throughout his time in the program. Dr. Paparodis' training was on a full-time basis, and he was paid biweekly in accordance with a stipend set by the McGaw Center for Graduate Medical Education of Northwestern University, according to his PGY level of training (PGY-4). The McGaw Center for Graduate Medical Education of Northwestern University is an accredited institution for medical subspecialty training.

During his fellowship training, Dr. Paparodis was required to carry a pager and follow the monthly call schedule, as well as to attend the weekly educational activities of the program (fellows' lectures, research and clinical case conferences).

Please contact me if you require further information on Dr. Paparodis' time in our training program.

With best regards,

Julie Schlesinger
Business Administrator
Division of Endocrinology, Metabolism and Metabolic Medicine
